Center for Civil Society Research, in collaboration with the Swedish Red Cross, the Swedish Sports Confederation, Sweden City Missions, Save the Children Sweden and Ersta Diakoni, cordially invites researchers working on civil society studies to Marie Cederschiöld University in Stockholm, Sweden, for a working conference.

The conference provides an inspiring arena for academic discussions on contemporary civil society in European societies. The papers can cover a broad range of topics including studies on engagement and volunteering, organization and mobilization, movements and NGO's, power and resource inequalities between civil society actors, as well as advocacy and philanthropic actors and activities. We look forward to receiving papers departing from various theoretical perspectives and diverse empirical approaches.
