

REMESO Graduate School

For Swedish and International PhD and MA Students

Institute for Research on Migration, Ethnicity & Society, REMESO
Linköping University, Sweden

Course Autumn 2021:

The Political Economy of International Migration

15 November–17 December

(On-campus week in Norrköping, 29 November–3 December)

Course Directors: Professors Peo Hansen and Claudia Tazreiter, REMESO.

International Guest Lecturer: Professor Jonathon Moses, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Trondheim. New Book in 2021: Workaway: The Human Costs of Europe's Common Labour Market.

Deadline for applications: 1 November

- REMESO Graduate School courses are offered to PhD students and advanced MA students; the courses are taught by REMESO faculty and international and Swedish guest lecturers.
- 5 weeks of full-time work for 7,5 ECTS. Includes one intensive week at REMESO, Campus Norrköping.
- Courses are usually examined by a paper assignment.

For information and application form: <https://liu.se/en/research/remeso-graduate-school> or contact Graduate School coordinator Mavis Hooi at mavis.hooi@liu.se.